

With our new friends

We have taken part in an english project. It was in the last year. We met new people from different countries. There were romanien, finnish and estonian boys and girls in the student hostel.

We could talk very well to each other especially to the finnish boys. They could talk well English. We could talk about the school, government, tax and the salary. We wanted to show our town but they didn't want to see the specialitie of Paks. Their teachers showed them some places for example: they saw Szekszárd. They said that they were tired and a little bit bored.

Our best place was Premier, the known pub near to the student hostel. They were very friendly and they said that we should go to finnland to visit them because we were their friends in hungary in those days. We enjoyed those days and we want to see them again.
